

Hungry for adventure?

ISBN 978-0-88995-459-5
Juvenile Fiction; Ages 12+
288 pages • $12.95 • paperback

From the author of the Governor General's Award-winning novel, Greener Grass, and its sequel, Wild Geese, comes the next installment in the Byrne family adventure!

Jack wakes up alone, injured and completely lost in the Northern wilderness. He has no memory of what happened—or who he is. The days pass but there is still no sign of rescue. His injuries are festering and he can no longer hunt to survive. With the dwindling scraps of food and the wolf drawing nearer each night, Jack begins to fear the worst. His family, wherever they are, whoever they are, have abandoned him completely.

The only one coming for him is the wolf.

PRAISE FOR TIMBER WOLF

"The writing here is wonderful and the mechanics of taking the reader on the required journey is executed with subtlety and an informed intelligence."

—Resource Links

"Classic literature." —Winnipeg Review

"[A] strong historical adventure which will captivate female and, especially, male young adult readers." —CM Magazine

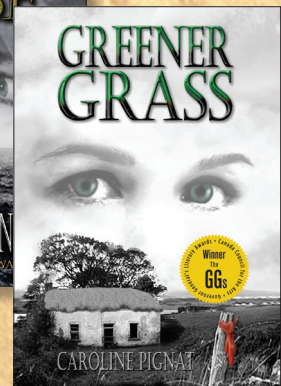

OTHER BOOKS BY CAROLINE PIGNAT

"Teens will empathize with the characters and see the personality types inherent within themselves or in their schools." —School Library Journal on Egghead

"... a sensitive examination of bullying and its psychological roots."
—Booklist on Egghead

"A historical novel, a young adult coming-of-age tale, an adventure yarn, a story of faith and love, all of these describe Wild Geese and will draw a wide audience.." —Voice of Youth Advocates on Wild Geese

"The tension in the story and in the well-developed characters is always rooted in daily detail..." —Booklist (starred) on Greener Grass

Red Deer Press

To order, please call 1-800-387-9776 or contact your favourite local wholesaler.